Zach W. - 2021-03-12 - Website Widgets

You use widgets to add content, such as stories and upcoming events to your bulletin or web page. They are essential design features, and each one has a different function. In this article we'll take a closer look at the Executives and Directors widget.

1. To access any widget, you need to be logged into your webpage. Then, access your bulletin or webpage editor.
2. Once you have opened the content you wish to edit, you can access the Executives and Directors widget on the left side of the screen. It is under the Essentials widget tab.

3. When placed into your content, the Executives and Directors widget displays a list of any of your identified group executives, directors, and officers.
